A note to Anderson Rotarians!

The Newsletter team is working diligently to reestablish a weekly newsletter —

The Anderson Rotary Big Wheel

We appreciate your patience as you await the return of this very important communication tool of our club. It's worth the effort, but as effective styles of communications change, so also do the channels by which we communicate, newsletters included!

This effort is truly better as a 'team approach' ... so as we proceed, it will be of great help to 'the team' if all club members assist as much as possible and when asked, with the assimilation of the exciting, interesting events of our club.

As to this edition ... it's incomplete as you can see, but is being presented so that you can see the stylistic approach, can make suggestions for it's usefulness, and can see that progress is being made!

Thank you again for your patience!
George Vinson, Editor

P. S. Janet Brewer generously offered to record a video of each meeting's Program! The following from last week's meeting may be seen on YouTube, by clicking the link(s):

Our guest speaker on September 1, 2009 was Susan Eichhorn. Susan is the Education Coordinator of the East Central Indiana Solid Waste District. A part of the mission of the East Central Indiana Solid Waste District is to educate its constituents about waste reduction, recycling, and composting in East Central Indiana. Susan's presentation was on easy ways to go green.

The Rotarian Magazine

The latest news from Rotary International is good news for researchers. Rotary has teamed with Google to make most issues of The Rotarian magazine available free on line. Full-color, searchable scans are currently available from 1959 thru 2008. More issues will follow.

For example if you go to the website one can search for a name, a word, a title, a phrase or subject. For example, if you search all issues for the name "Bardsley" you will find a photograph with the following caption:

WINNING FORM, Skiing in his first race, Ned Bardsley, a hale and hearty member of the Rotary Club of Anderson, Indiana, won a bronze medal at the National Standard Race at Snowmass, Colorado in January 1984, a few days after he celebrated his 80th birthday.

Many of you will remember the wonderful occasion when our club recognized with a splendid musical program our past club president Ned Bardsley on his 100th birthday in 2004. ...
